

22nd of February 2022,

From 19th to 22nd April 2022, the International Adventure & Discovery Film Festival in Val d'Isère is inviting spectators to celebrate its 25th anniversary in person and online. Over four evenings, the eleven shortlisted films will be presented by Sylvain Tesson and the screenings will be attended by adventurers and producers alike.

The panel of judges – led this year by physicist and philosopher of science Etienne Klein – will decide the winner of the festival's Prix de l'Aigle d'Or award, among others. To celebrate the festival's 25th anniversary, the supporting programme will be varied and will include exhibitions, meet-and-greets and brand-new screenings in a destination that embodies adventure: Val d'Isère.

"We are proud to offer spectators an eclectic programme of films that raise awareness about the situation the planet is currently facing. Discovery, wonder, surprise, opening people's eyes, exploring unknown places, questioning one's beliefs... These are the aims of this festival, which proves hugely popular with spectators in Val d'Isère. This event is designed to CELEBRATE LIFE!" say the festival's organisers.
